Report on Yaquina Bay

The report of the Yaquina Bay survey was necessarily unfinished by us when it first came out [illegible] weeks ago We now give it in full

The entrance to Yaquina Bay is situated on the Coast of Oregon Lat 44 [illegible] Long 1[illegible] W [illegible] miles south of the mouth of the Columbia river

In approaching it from the sea should it be a clear day navigators will first make out a very peculiar [illegible] covered with dead pine trees giving it a whitish color This mountain is known as [illegible] on the head waters of the river of the same name and is from sea apparently to the south and east of the entrance to Yaquina

Mary's peak a conical shaped mountain in the [illegible] will also show (dark blue in color) to the north of Alsea

Nearing the shore if coming from southward a cluster of detached rocks will be seen about a mile from the sand beach and extending against it These rocks are called the Seal Rocks or Seal Rocks and are (approximately) eight miles below the mouth of the Yaquina and between it and the Alsea river

Three and one half miles to the northwest of Yaquina Head is a remarkable cape or point known as Cape Foulweather It is perfectly bare of timber extends one mile out from the beach and consists of two conical hills the inner 407 the outer 380 feet above low water mark and terminates in a tongue or point of rocks with one large detached islet lying off its extreme end This cape being a very prominent land mark and unlike any other on the coast line will identify the position of Yaquina entrance at once if the mountains are not visible

The north shore or Head of Yaquina entrance consists of a bluff 120 to 130 feet high of sandstone formation, showing yellow from the sea The bluff is crowned with an isolated grove of tall pine or fir trees some dead and some alive On its seaward face a beacon or signal has been erected the base of which is 126 feet high Directly under it and extending towards the Bar is a large flat rock oblong in shape

The South Beach is low and sandy backed by sand dunes and still further back by a low range of hills bare of timber on the highest of which a flagstaff (158 feet at the base) has been erected for celebrations etc This flagstaff has been boarded up 30 feet from the ground to serve as a range or beacon for entering the harbor (to be mentioned hereafter) Back of these hills there is a long ridge covered with a dense forest of living fir trees On the point of the South Beach seen from sea the roof of a large house, new 1868 will show prominently

The first danger of approaching the harbor of Yaquina consists of a ledge of rocks running parallel with the general trend of the shore line and distant from 1 to 1½ miles from it This ledge (as far as surveyed) culminates in a rock 1½ miles from shore and 2¼ miles S. S W of the North Head on which there is but 12½ feet at mean low water On this rock the sea breaks at low tide and in heavy weather Running from this rock to the northward the ledge sinks Opposite the entrance it again rises, the shoalest spot being but 6 feet below the surface at mean low water The extent of shoal water is about 600 yards in length the reef then sinks again rising in isolated spots to 15 feet below the surface until it terminates at Cape Foulweather. Between this reef and the bar there is a good channel over 800 yards wide with an average depth of 24 feet (m l w)

The bar is formed partly by a sand spit making out from the South Beach and partly by a double reef of rocks extending from the North Head The outermost reef starts from a point 338 yds north of the large rock before mentioned and ends with a line of kelp on the north edge of the channel 300 yards from its shore end and 150 yds from the edge of the channel, there is a rock awash at low water The inner reef starts from the large rock and runs 220 yds out terminating at the edge of the channel also Between the sand spit and this reef runs the north or rather the only well defined channel existing at the present time. Through this channel, choosing the best water, vessels will not get a shoaler cast than 9 feet at mean low water, or 16½ to 17 at mean high water

At its most narrow part there is a width of 166 feet, carrying 9 feet ; 420 feet carrying 8 feet; and 600 feet carrying 7 feet The shoal water is 600 feet across in the channel [illegible] getting 17 and 18 feet up to it and inside

On the sand spit before mentioned there is, in some places a depth of only 2 or 3 feet at low water and the sea breaks over it almost constantly The vessels formerly running in and out of the bay crossed this sand spit On their ranges we found 2½ feet in the shoalest spot at mean low water

As better water had always been claimed for ranges I am inclined to think that the sand spit is shifting and would probably show an increased depth of water after the winter gales The main current of the river sets very strongly towards this spit at ebb tide The channel on the contrary may shoal in winter but having one rocky edge will it is probable regain its depth in summer

The shoal water in crossing the bar through the channel continues so short a distance and the channel itself is so straight and well defined in ordinary weather by the breakers on each side that with a pilot or chart to guide them vessels drawing ten twelve or even thirteen feet can, by choosing the time of the tide enter and depart with perfect safety

In this it has a decided advantage over the more tortuous channels of other places on the coast Should the harbor become of sufficient importance to justify it, a steam tug could take vessels out and in drawing even more than the above mentioned depth of water

My report to the Superintendent of the Coast Survey on the completion of our work will embrace a recommendation for the placing of buoys on the shoal spots of the outside ledge of rocks and should he deem it justified by the importance of the place it will be forwarded to the Light House Department for action This ledge once marked and defined thus will be no further obstacle

The accompanying chart does not of course embrace but a portion of the work already completed but sufficient to show the character of the bottom Profiles of the bottom are placed on the chart and their positions indicated

The soundings are all reduced to mean low water viz a mean of the lowest of low waters observed during the progress of the survey The mean rise of the tide is 7½ feet At the full and change of the moon the high waters will rise higher and the low waters fall lower than the above and consequently the depth of water on the bar will be greater at high tide and lower at low tide Accurate tables of the exact rise and fall above the plane of reference (mean low water) will be given when the chart is published In heavy northwest or southeast weather the tides are sensibly affected by the wind The highest tide ever known here from that cause rose 15 feet above the plane of reference A beacon has been erected on the sand dunes back of the South Beach to be kept in range with the flagstaff to enter the North channel through the best water

SAILING DIRECTIONS

Vessels bound for Yaquina Bay after making the land marks before mentioned should not run closer than 10 fathoms until they get the signal on Light House Point (or the North Head) to bear N E ¾ E then run for it until range signals are on

The range signals are a beacon erected on the sand dunes directly back of the beach and the flagstaff on the hill behind These are to be kept in range until the water deepens to 3 fathoms and the signal on the diamond shaped hill on the north side of the bay bears N by E ¾ E then run for it until opposite the town Anchor above the houses in the stream and as close to the shore as the vessel will swing lower down the holding ground is bad and the current [illegible] very strong

CONFEDERIT X ROADS (wich is in the State uv Kentucky) Nov 28 1868

Last evenin I happened to pick up the northern newspaper uv the Dimokratic persuasion wich [illegible] into wich [illegible] The Fuchure uv the Dimocrisy The able and dignified writer took the posishen that the [illegible] uv the Dimocrisy wuz [illegible] the dead past bury its dead—in stoking all the ish of the past ten years—in acknowledgin the situashen and acceptin the results uv the war in sinkin out uv site the old leaders and puttin sich men ez Chase Seward John Quincy Adams jr Evarts Rosecrance &c to the front and thus havin infoosed new life and new blood into the organizashen to make it go on conkerin and to conker

The article wuz a column and a half in length and its a weakness uv mine that I can't read more than a column without goin to sleep Therefore at the end uv the column the paper dropt from my hand and I dropt off into a gentle slumber in my chair and dreamed a dream

In my dream before me lay the body uv a man uv gigantic frame wich wuz a breathin his last. He had been a powerful youth in his day, and hadn't the appearance uv bein very old in years tho his hair wuz gray his cheeks sunken and his form fritefully emaciated His age wuz evidently the effect uv dissipashen more than uv years—wickidness had done its perfeck work on him and it wuz plane that he wuz a goner

Around him stood all sorts uv people There wuz Vallandigham the Blairs Hoffman the Woodses, Voorhees Morrissey Mrs Cobb Mrs Perry (between these two A Johnson) and many more uv that stripe who appeared to be endeavorin to resusitate the nearly defunct individyooal

Who is this ruther bustid patriark? asked I uv one who appeared to be a chief mourner

That's Dimocrisy" answered he he hes fought his larst fite he hes fought his larst battle no gong kin awake him to glory agin He's a gone sucker"

At this pint the operators on the unfortunit sufferer gave up in despair

I kin do nothin sed Seymour, "that last exershun wuz his last I shall hie me to my farm"

"I knowed it wuz useless sed Vallandigham "I shel leave Ohio and go to Noo York, for any body kin git to Congress from that city

I kin do no more " sed Vorhees "I shel quit politics and go to operatin in Erie stocks!"

Erie stocks," remarkt Mrs Perry, with her[illegible] classic countenance, thank the Lord, I'm not so low ez that!

At this pint a lot uv hungry lookin cusses, not so prominent ez these others demandid that the pashent be put into new hands for treatment, and to wunst they called out for Chase, Seward, Evarts Rosecrance and John Quincy Adams jr who havin no other place to stay wuz a hangin on the outskirts uv the crowd Promptly they ex[illegible] the dyin man and proceeded to apply the remedies

"This is one thing that's killin him," sed Chase, cauterizin a hideous ulcer marked "slavery"

"This must come off" sed Evarts whippin out a knife and takin off a foul smellin tumor, labelled state rites

"And I'll never consent to be seen with him of this is allowed to remain," sed R[illegible], slashin out a cancer marked b[illegible]

And this must come off of I hev anything to do with him," sed John Quincy Adams, Jounyer, jerkin off a most fearful tumor marked "Repudiashen"

And so they went on, one after another, pullin off this thing and another that, this one burnin out this sore, and another that, till they hed peeled it to the bones. When they had got the diseased parts off ther wuz nothin left but the skeleton It wuz a very [illegible] uv flesh ez though it had bin dissected by an enthoosiastic class uv medikle students.

They then commenced building uv it up Chase put on Ekal Rites mussle, Evarts stuck Nashenal credit in the hole Repudiashen hed made, Rosecrance stiffened its back with loyalty, they fumigated it, breathed into its nostrils, and, wrapin it in the star spangled banner histid it to its feet. It wuz rather shaky on its pins, but [illegible] free and wuz altogether a more promisin and [illegible] ble bein than it had bin fur years.

We were all rejoist, and yit we wasn't so well pleased after all He wuz gittin stronger and stronger, but his appearance wuz changin so that we didn't know him There wuz a color cum to his cheeks he lost his brootal looks, he stept free, and he gave evidence uv life and strength that wuz wonderful

'Thank the Lord," sed the Blairs, "he's strong enough to be ridden agin!

Please Heaven" sed Vallandigham, "my troubles are now over, for there's strength in Dimocrisy

Let's mount, sed they in korus, and forth with Montgomery Blair crept up onto his thighs with the whole family on his shoulders, each one uv wich twisted his legs about him with a death grip The newly rejoovenated giant staggered under this, but didn't fall Mayor Monroe and all of his Louisiana crowd vaulted onto his shoulders, the Woods and Hoffman and Vallandigham and Voorhees and Brits, and a thousand more uv the same style, and each loaded with his record

For God's sake, cried Chase Seward and Rosecrance for God's sake, get off! He ain't strong enuff to stand all that. He cant carry the loads that well nigh killed him—the [illegible] that yoosed him up—any better now than he cood before Git off!—git off!'

Git off!' sed a planter who had got a sekoor hold, uv wat yoose is Dimocrisy to me, onless I kin carry those? pintin to the niggers under his arm

Git off! sed the Blairs "of Dimocrisy cant carry us into postishen wat do we want uv it?" and they gripped it so close as almost to strangle it

Git off sed the Woodses onless we can ride it uv wat use is Dimocrisy to us?"

And they all declined gittin off emphatically

Very well sed Chase and his friends, in despair very well We're done But look out

Skarcely wuz the words out uv their mouths when the poor giant gasped his knees knocked together, his pins give out and he toppled over with a feerful crash pilin the load in one hetereogenous mass

At this pint I awoke

I had no trouble to interpret the dream It's troo that Dimocrisy can't carry the load that has bin put onto it for years and years and its also troo that we the load don't care a tinker's cuss about Dimocrisy unless it kin carry us To make it strong enuff to stand alone we hev to take off uv it all uv its distinctive feechers and replace em with abolishunism and then uv wat yoose is it to us When Chase had metemorphosed it so that it could stand it wuz ez near Abolishinism ez anything could be, and when all that wuz taken off it wuz porcisely ez weak ez ever Uv wat yoose is an Abolishunized Dimocrisy to an ex slaveholder who wants his niggers agin? Uv wat avail is a pure Dimocrisy to the gentlemen who desire offis in wich steeling is unlimited? Sich a Dimocrisy is Abolishenism—and we mite ez well go over to it bodily ez to remodel our party on that idea If we sink the old ishoos and the old ideas uv the party we sink also us who advocated them ideas and made them ishoos and of we keep fightin it out on that line wat is before us but defeat? Oh that I could see a glimmer uv lite Oh that enuff uv our prominent leaders wood die to let us the smaller ones out from under their shadder The fucher to me is dark and gloomy

THE [illegible] STICK AT A GAME OF QUOITS

The more I see of the world the more I am convinced that simplicity is not more the inevitable accompaniment of true genius than it is of true greatness I never yet knew a truly great genius who did not possess a certain playful, almost childish simplicity of character True greatness never struts on stilts or plays the king upon the stage Conscious of its elevation above the rest of mankind and knowing in what that eleva[illegible] consists it is happy to take its part in the common amusements and business of life It is not afraid of being undervalued for its humility

Of this class was Chief Justice Marshall In his hours of relaxation he was as full of fun and as natural as a child He entered into the spirit of athletic exercises with the ardor of youth and at sixty odd years of age he was one of the best quoit players in Virginia.

I think it was during the summer of 1826 that I met him at the Quoit Club near Richmond, where were collected at least half a dozen [illegible] judges and several distinguished [illegible] of different professions, including Jarvis, the portrait painter the prince of originals, poet, [illegible], and I may venture to say, future [illegible] made, and the Chief Justice [illegible] off his coat, and fell to work with as much energy as he would have directed to the decision of a q[illegible] of neutral rights or the conflicting jurisdiction of the General and State Government.

I remember, in the course of the game, and when the parties were nearly at a tie that some dispute arose as to the quoit nearest the meg. The Chief Justice was chosen umpire [illegible] the quoit belonging to Jarvis and that of Billy Haxall The Judge bent down one knee and with a straw essayed the decision of this important question on which the fate of the game in a great measure depended After nicely measuring, and and frequently biting off the end of the straw, Gentlemen, said he, 'you will [illegible] this quoit would have it, but the rule of the game is to measure from the visible iron Now that clod of dirt hides almost half an inch But then he has a right to the nearest part of the meg, and [illegible] as you will perceive, is a splinter which belongs to and is a part of the meg as much as the State of Virginia is a part of the Union [illegible] giving Mr Haxall a great advantage; but, [illegible] standing, in my opinion, Jarvis has it by at [illegible] the sixteenth part of an inch, and so I [illegible], like a just judge in my favor"

A man who is not afraid [illegible] may have reached to let himself thus down to the level of his fellow men must have that [illegible] consciousness of genius which is in it [illegible] evidence of [illegible] Those who are [illegible] mixing with their fellow [illegible] are of the every day race of men whom chance has [illegible] notorious and who are like the [illegible] empty palaces that shut up [illegible] fear people may come near enough to [illegible] the object poverty within.

The Erie [illegible]

One of the most prominent [illegible] in the [illegible] speculative operations which have [illegible] the whole country during the last few [illegible] James Fisk, Jr His life has been an [illegible] one, and I will tell the [illegible] of it as it has [illegible] told to me He is a native of [illegible] New Hampshire, I am not sure which In early life he was employed as [illegible] and while [illegible] in that capacity fell in love with a dashing equestrienne [illegible] to the [illegible] ment and married her [illegible] the "show [illegible] and set up [illegible] Marsh, of the [illegible] Marsh & Co, of New York, [illegible] of a country tavern, a few years ago, [illegible] four horse [illegible] drive up to the [illegible], and was [illegible] by the skill with which the driver [illegible] the ribbons He [illegible] into conversation [illegible] admired his [illegible], and his [illegible] which was [illegible] with [illegible] the driver's wife and family. Consid[illegible] of the [illegible] smartness he [illegible] him to [illegible] the [illegible] store. This driver was James Fisk Jr. He [illegible] to Boston [illegible] rather at a loss as to what [illegible] him, put him down in the [illegible] in charge of the heavy cotton goods Here he [illegible] a salary of $1,000 per year But the [illegible] of the [illegible] up to [illegible] in the [illegible] with an important [illegible] of the [illegible] operated with [illegible] invariable [illegible] erations," done in a few days, [illegible] over $100,000 Of course he was [illegible] partner and at once took the [illegible] transacti[illegible] of the house By [illegible] partners who had [illegible] by his daring enterprises began to be afraid of him, he was too smart too [illegible] he might swamp the [illegible] one of these days So they asked him [illegible] take for his interest in the [illegible] $200,000 That was too much, his [illegible] thought and the matter was finally left to [illegible] They decided that the other partners should pay Fisk $150,000, which was [illegible] and [illegible] left the firm with his money He started here in the same business, which he [illegible] only a little while, and then [illegible] New York There he began to [illegible] and soon lost every dollar he owned. He [illegible] to Boston borrowed $1,000 of Jordan, and tried his luck in the metropolis again. His [illegible] is already a matter of history His wife lives here in a fine house, receiving from her husband, it is said an allowance of $1 000 per [illegible], while he makes his home in New York [illegible] the romantic affection with which he [illegible] the [illegible] ing circus rider a few years ago, has not [illegible] abated for the gossips say that, arriving in town recently, he took rooms at the [illegible] and sent a [illegible] to his wife to the [illegible] would call on her some time [illegible] the next day. —New York Letter

THE NEW STATE OF SUPERIOR.—The following is from the Marquette Mining Journal:

We learn from various sources that a determined effort is to be made at the coming session of Congress for the organization of a new territorial government over that portion of territory made up of the Upper Peninsula of the State of Michigan and that portion of Wisconsin lying north of a line drawn from the mouth of the Menominee due west to the Mississippi river, with the ultimate view of erecting the same into a State, to be called the State of Superior

The proposed State would extend from the Saulte Ste. Marie on the east, taking the whole south shore of Lake Superior as its northern boundary embracing the nine counties of the Upper Peninsula of this State, and the upper tier of counties in Wisconsin

The area of the State would be about 25,000 square miles and the population would range from 75,000 to 100 000. With a liberal legislation one calculated to foster our interests, with the moneys raised by the taxes of our own property to be expended among us and the new and varied improvements continually going on, the State of Superior would readily take rank among its sister States as one of the brightest stars in the constellation and the untold wealth of its mines, its lumber and its fisheries, would be more thoroughly developed and brought to the markets of the great West

The Small Pox

The continued spread of the small pox disease in the [illegible] States and Territories is becoming a source of very general alarm. In spite of all the efforts which have been made to check its progress it is steadily advancing. From being an endemic in San Francisco it has rapidly spread to every point in communication with that city, and is becoming an epidemic over a very large extent of country. It is now certain that nothing but the most careful and thorough measures can arrest it or prevent its ravages from being fearful to contemplate. So far Portland has singularly escaped this dread visitation. But we can hardly hope to escape exposure in future. It behooves the people in all parts of the State to be preparing for it. It is raging fearfully at Jacksonville. It has made its appearance at Canyonville, at Salem and at Buena Vista. The greatest precautions are becoming necessary to guard against its spread. The one great prophylactic is vaccination; and though this is not a sure preventive, there can be no question but it greatly reduces the chances of taking the disease. Every case that occurs should be so managed as to give as little opportunity as possible for the disease to spread. The community ought in every case to see to it that the patient is kept in the greatest possible seclusion so that the virus may not be scattered widely among them. It is becoming very clear that unless general regulations are made throughout the country, and strictly enforced, the disease is likely to become so general that its ravages will be arrested only by an exhaustion of material for it to prey upon. Too much importance cannot be given to this subject. The people everywhere should be on their guard against this terrible visitation.

Reducing the Interest

There is much talk about reducing the interest on the public debt. Various propositions have been made, looking to that end. The gist of the whole of them is that a loan equal to the whole amount of the interest bearing debt shall be authorized, drawing smaller interest than is now paid—say four or four and a-half per cent—and that with the new securities the present bonds shall be purchased and cancelled.

It requires but little reflection to show that most schemes of this kind are purely visionary; [illegible] little good can result from them. The very first question to be considered is at what price will a four per cent bond sell? The 5-20's, of which the debt mainly consists, have had an average value during the last two or three years of seventy five or seventy six cents. It is obvious that to convert these into four per cents would increase the principal of the debt by many millions so that what would be saved by a reduction of interest would be lost by an increase of the principal. The rate of interest would be reduced, but the gross amount of interest to be paid would not be materially, if at all, lessened by the change. It is easy to talk about [illegible] things with the finances by legislation; [illegible] is only one way whereby the credit of the country can be bettered, its currency improved and a lower rate of interest secured, and that one way is by a scrupulous adherence to honesty, by avoiding all talk or thought of escaping from any of the just obligations which the country has incurred, and by thus making our securities a good and safe investment for capital.

RAILROAD BILL.—The railroad bill introduced in the United States Senate on the 9th [illegible] by Mr Williams, contemplates the construction of a railroad from "a point at or near the bend of the Humboldt River in the State of Nevada, to and over the Cascade range of mountains in the vicinity of the Klamath Lakes, and thence by the most practicable route to the navigable waters of the Columbia river, at or near Portland." The "Oregon Branch Pacific Railroad Company," a corporation organized last July pursuant to the laws of Oregon, is designated as the Company to receive the subsidy provided for in the bill, which consists of twenty sections of land per mile and thirty-year bonds of the United States to the amount of $16,000 per mile for the whole distance, with an addition of $[illegible],000 per mile for one hundred miles of the most mountainous and difficult portions of the route. The general provisions of the bill place this branch on the same footing with the main trunk. The bill was read twice and ordered printed. It will probably come up for discussion shortly, but we fear our delegation in Congress, when measures for the benefit of Ooregon are before that body, will find it difficult to dispel the natural prejudice which members may have [illegible] on account of the conduct of our Ku-Klux Klan.

CHEAP OCEAN POSTAGE.—Mr. Sumner has introduced in the Senate an inquiry as to the feasibility of securing cheap ocean postage. He [illegible], and with much force, that the transportation of mails upon the sea can be done at much less cost than upon the land, and that the postage upon a letter by ocean is twelve cents when the same can be carried the same distance by land for three cents. There is no objection to the reduction of the rates of ocean postage which was not made against the reduction of internal postage and the fallacy of all those objections has long since been established. The number of letters written under the old rates of land postage would not have paid the cost of transportation at the low rates, but the low rates more than quadrupled the number of letters and gave actual increase of revenue. The reduction of the rates of ocean postage would more than cover the difference in the rates and the people on both sides of the water would have the benefit of rapid and cheap interchange of letters.

FULLY SETTLED.—Talking about the responsibility of the war and the public debt the Herald says:

> The public mind has been gradually changing in this respect. It is still changing, and will continue to do so until the responsibility of our own troubles is thrown upon the proper parties. We are content to abide a sober decision of the [illegible].

Yes, the public mind is gradually changing on this point, as is evidenced by the steadily increasing majorities against the the Democratic party. The responsibility has been thrown wholly on that party by the people who have fully made up their minds on the subject. Our neighbor and his party will be compelled to abide this sober decision, whether they are "content" to do so or not.

MUDDLED.—In one column the Herald compliments the Unionist for its course in calling for a special session by saying: "We are pleased to see one Radical journal rise above mere party prejudices and look only to the welfare of the State", and in the column next adjoining it says the plain English of the Unionist's appeal to the Governor is this: "Our pocket books are suffering; won't you call an extra session so the appropriation can pass?" The crooked course of the Unionist has evidently badly muddled the Herald. As they are both working for a common object, viz: an extra session, they ought to confer together and settle upon some consistent plan of action. The Salem concern [illegible] its friends [illegible] an awkward fix.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.—The editor of the Owyhee Avalanche recently visited Boise City to look in on the Legislature, as he supposed. He thought the proceedings were quite unbecoming, and wrote to his paper a very severe account thereof. The editor of the Boise Statesman was mortified by what he deemed the unjust strictures of the Owyhee editor, and set the matter right by asserting that his brother of the Avalanche, when in Boise City, did not visit the Legislative Hall at all, but entered a dance house which he mistook for the place. This explanation is no doubt satisfactory all round.

EXCELLENT GUARDIANS FOR THE STATE.—The Unionist says the State has been placed in an embarrassing position "by the rebel retreaters from Price's army" and "by the misrepresentation of a riotous ring of irresponsible ruffians", yet that paper daily adjures the Governor to assemble this same delectable body at the Capital in extra session. Beautiful consistency! Salem no doubt would be honored by the presence of the "rebel retreaters" and "irresponsible ruffians" and the interests of the State would be promoted by their legislation!

ASSASSINS.—The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says: "There are reports of threats of members of the Ku Klux Klan to assassinate the President elect. One story is that a band of over a hundred ruffians have solemnly sworn that Grant shall not be inaugurated. These reports may be wholly sensational, but every precaution should be taken to prevent the success of any such desperate attempt. The madness that still appears in a large class at the South may culminate in another Booth."

Letter from Phillip Ritz

BAKER CITY, Oregon, Nov 26th, 1868.

It is really pleasant to see progress made in settlement and civilization in this and Grande Ronde valleys within the last two years. In very many places one sees the unpretending little school house raising its modest head by the road side—that emblem of our peculiar national greatness and the silent springs from which our true prosperity must forever flow.

Two years ago nearly seven-eighths of the population of eastern Oregon intended to leave the country just as soon they could sell out at almost any price and get away, consequently they did not care to improve their farms or homes in making permanent improvements, and every one then spoke of the dullness and discouragements of the country. Now almost every one speaks of the healthfulness of the climate and the general prosperity and boundless resources of the county, so much so that there appears to be a general content everywhere. The survey of this "Sage Brush" branch of the Union Pacific Railroad has given an impetus and new life to every branch of business, and when this line is built there will be machinery brought into the country so cheaply, and such an increase of population that there will be millions of tons of rock worked up that will pay from $10 to $40 per ton, which now cannot be worked on account of high wages and high prices for machinery.

BOISE CITY, Dec 11th, 1868.

Since arriving in this valley, I find the railroad mania is even greater than farther west. All classes seem so confident of the early construction of the road that they are building larger hotels and places of business, and fencing in and plowing up more land, and surveying out larger water ditches, and delving deeper into their mines, in anticipation of better times hereafter. The Legislature is in full blast, and from a careful survey of the honorable body to-day, I think it will be a decided improvement on former Idaho Legislatures.

I had the pleasure of going with my family to day to hear the able, earnest, and practical message of Gov. Ballard delivered before both houses in convention. It is an able document and does great credit to the Governor.

Boise valley has three large flouring mills and two distilleries in active operation. The flour they make would be a credit to any country. As I am no judge of whisky I cannot speak of its quality.

To morrow morning at three o'clock we take the stage for the "City of the Saints." It does look like something of an adventure to start out at this time of year with a delicate woman and child to travel over four hundred miles, day and night, through a barren, desolate, uninhabited, mountainous country, with scarcely a family on the entire route; but where there is a will there is generally a way.

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec 10th, 1868.

We arrived here nicely yesterday afternoon in three and a half days from Boise City—402 miles. My wife and our little Hattie (three years old) have stood the trip splendidly, while many robust, hearty men come in so completely used up and tired that they don't get over it for a week. There is nothing like a cheerful disposition and adapting oneself to any emergency in traveling.

The roads from Boise City to this place are excellent, with a little snow on the Goose Creek mountains. But, Oh! what a country! and especially to build a railroad through. Over 300 miles scarcely an object to be seen but the everlasting sage brush. There are 30 stations varying from 9 to 13 miles apart, between these cities. Lockwood is putting the line in good order. His stock and stages are not of the best at present, but he makes good time, and as he moved on to it only a few weeks ago, I am assured that he will have it in excellent order—one of the best lines in the mountains—in a short time, and I am sure it will pay him, as the travel is already large and will increase largely. The fare from Boise City to this place is $100 currency, and it cost me with my family $21 50, currency, for meals.

We met the railroad surveying party under Col Hudnutt, at the crossing of Snake river. They are confident that the U. P. Company will place their force on this line as soon as the through line is completed, say the first of June.

This city has not improved much for two years past, but business has been excellent. One firm told me that they had purchased at one time in New York $300,000 worth of goods, and at another time $450,000 worth, and they have now at the end of the track 300,000 pounds of goods.

The railroad is coming down Weber river 4[illegible] miles north of this city. Parties are already at work nearly 100 miles west of here. There has already been one heavy snow storm in the Rocky Mountains east of this, blocking up the road for awhile.

Circumstances are likely to change the aspect of affairs between the eastern and western lines—giving the Central Railroad the vantage ground.

I learn that the Central Pacific have at this time rails and materials enough east of the Sierra Nevadas to run their line to Salt Lake, and have 10,000 men on hand to do the work.

And all travellers who have ever been on the plains know that the snow seldom falls on the great alkali deserts of the Humboldt to stop work during the winter. While on the other hand there are no rails laid down near the canyon yet, and as this has been a very mild and dry fall and winter in all probability we will have a deep fall of snow within ten days, which is bound to stop work in these canyons until some time in the spring.

I have been told further that the two companies made a compromise a short time ago, that they have selected a point near the north point of Salt Lake called Promontory Point, where they expect to build a city, and they have agreed that the company which reaches that point first shall have over 100 miles of the other company's road, which will be worth $5,000,000.

The game is an exciting one and the stakes a magnificent inducement, and I believe the Central will win.

Dec 17th.—It looks very much like snowing this evening. We start out on the stage at six to-night, for Bear City, 30 miles. Fare, $23. Wells Fargo & Co run two stages, daily, and there is an opposition running, fare at $17. I will write you from the road or east of the Mississippi. Very respectfully,

PHILIP RITZ

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

DATES TO JANUARY 7

Pennsylvania Affairs

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 6.—The Governor's message was delivered to-day. The State finances are in a prosperous condition. The debt is [illegible] diminished. He recommends [illegible] every department. The [illegible] but he estimates [illegible] the State [illegible]. He urges [illegible] to prevent frauds in naturalization. He refers to the case of Hester Vaughn and suggests a law allowing the Governor to commute the death penalty to a term of imprisonment.

Kentucky Affairs

FRANKFORT, Jan. 6.—Governor Stevenson's annual message was submitted to the Legislature to-day. It congratulates members on the progress and marked prosperity of the State, makes many recommendations on various subjects, exhorts the people to shun all secret organizations, favors a geological survey of the State and the formation of a Bureau of statistics, urges the [illegible] as a matter of prime importance, [illegible] all endeavors to promote foreign immigration and the introduction of skilled labor into the State.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The [illegible] from Aspinwall Dec. 29 has arrived.

Michigan Senator

DETROIT, Jan. 6.—A caucus of Republican members of the Legislature to-night nominated Z. Chandler on the first ballot for re-election to the United States Senate. The Legislature organized to-day.

Army Matters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—By order of the Secretary of War General Reynolds is relieved from duty as Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau in Texas, and General Canby assigned to that duty.

General Sibley's official report about the troubles on the Ogeechee, Georgia, gives the details of the commencement and progress of the difficulty. He thinks no troops will be required to enforce the laws.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—In the Senate Williams offered a resolution looking to the re-organization of the Department of Agriculture, and providing for the election of one person in each State to look after its agricultural wants and interests and occupy a semi-official position in the Department.

Edmunds from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill to prevent the holding of civil office by military officers, and to prevent the holding of two offices at the same time.

The Senate took up the bill to encourage and regulate commerce between States. It provides for the construction of air line railroads to New York, Cincinnati and the Southern States. Sherman made a speech in favor of the bill, at the close of which the bill was postponed till Monday next. Senate considered private bills till it adjourned.

In the House Poland presented a joint resolution from the Vermont Legislature against any reciprocity treaty with Canada.

Stevens, of the Naval Committee, reported a bill to increase officers in the medical department of the navy. It provides for twelve medical inspectors, with the rank, pay and emoluments of commodores and eighteen medical directors with the rank of captains. During the discussion the morning hour expired and the bill went over.

Washburne reported the naval appropriation bill. Ordered printed and recommitted. It appropriates $15,[illegible]472, over $2,000,000 less than for the present year. It comprises $7,010,000 for the pay of the navy. The strength of the marine corps is fixed at 1,500 men. The officers are a Colonel, Lieut. Colonel, and two Majors, etc.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the pension appropriation bill, which appropriates three and a quarter millions. The bill was subsequently passed.

Washburne addressed the Committee foreshadowing the policy of Grant's administration and recommending in strong terms a committee in every branch of the service. He said unless this was carried out in all appropriations and in general legislation, the Government would be bankrupt.

The Consular appropriation bill was considered in Committee of the Whole at length without action. Adjourned.

End of the Surratt Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The grand jury have dismissed the Surratt case on the ground that the President's amnesty proclamation operated as a full pardon.

Senators to be Elected

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Many of the State Legislatures are now in session. The Senatorial canvass is very warm in Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Indiana, there being several aspirants for the office in each State. In Missouri, Carl Schurz and Henderson seem to be the most prominent. The result is regarded as very doubtful. In Indiana, Lieut Gen. I. Cumback's chances seem best. In Wisconsin, Watt Carpenter has several strong rivals for the place, of whom Judge Hopkins seems the strongest. Ramsey has the best prospects of success in Minnesota, though Donnelly, Washburne and others, are making strong efforts.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A special says General Butler yesterday succeeded in passing an amendment to the diplomatic bill in Committee of the Whole, consolidating the missions of Chili, Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador, and providing that the business be done by the present Minister to Peru until the new appointments are made.

The Senate Finance Committee has decided to report against the confirmation of Alexander Cummings as Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The report of Postmaster General Randall on the union of the telegraph with the postoffice service, will be sent to Congress to-day. He recommends the Government to unite the two services. A thorough examination of the subject has satisfied him that the Department can arrange for the reception and delivery of messages, the furnishing of stamps and keeping of accounts without any great increase in the number of clerks, and that the salary of postmasters may be increased by employing them in connection with the telegraph. He recommends Congress to charter a company to contract with the Government to transmit and deliver messages at low fixed rates on the plan submitted by Gardner C. H. Hubbard, and he submits a bill to carry out the plan.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Alabamians here charge that Judge Busteed has half a million to his credit in the Mobile banks, which they allege belongs to the United States. Steps are being taken to secure the amount subject to the decision of the judicial tribunals.

Miscellaneous

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—A European report fears serious troubles among the laboring classes in Switzerland. At Balize and Zurich there is much discontent at the scarcity of work and low wages and the high price of food.

It is reported that John Minor Botts is in a dying condition at his residence in Virginia.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 6.—The floor in the school house of the Catholic Church gave way to-night while the school was crowded with people attending a holiday festival. Three hundred persons went down, and several were instantly killed. The wildest excitement ensued. Eight persons were carried out dead, several are seriously injured and will probably die.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Panama letters mention a great excitement along the South Pacific coast in consequence of the renewal of earthquakes at Arica and other points and many persons have fled to the mountains.

The war between Chile and the Araucanian Indians has attracted much attention at Valparaiso. Two thousand Indians besieged Cal[illegible], but the garrison finally repulsed them with considerable loss.

HAVANA, Jan. 6.—A commercial bulletin of one of the leading firms says the insurrection is [illegible] gaining to [illegible]. All apprehensions that it might extend to the vicinity of Cardenas are now removed.

The sugar crop promises to yield fully equal to last year.

Throughout the Eastern Department and portions of the Central Department provisions are extremely scarce. The troops are prevented from moving rapidly by the want of adequate transportation of the necessary supplies.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

MADRID, Jan. 6.—The Republican demonstrations at Seville and Barcelona were unsuccessful, an attempt being made at the latter place to seize Government arms. They were moved to Cadiz. A proclamation has been issued raising the state of siege at Madrid.

General Prim in an official circular declares that the Provisional Government does not intend to disarm the volunteers.

Senor Sagasta, Minister of the Interior, has issued circulars which ascribe the recent troubles in Cadiz and Malaga to intrigues of the reactionists. It charges that their object in forming this disturbance was to prevent the taking of the plebiscitum.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Dispatches from Athens report that all the Cretan volunteers have left Calamata and returned to Syra.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—Later advices from Paraguay state that the American Minister McMahon had a satisfactory interview with Lopez. Full damages had been accorded for the recent outrages on Americans.

FLORENCE, Jan. 6.—Disturbances caused by the collection of the unpopular taxes still continue. There is much agitation in Reggio and Bologna.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., Jan. 6.—A vessel which arrived to-day reports that the British ship South [illegible] foundered at sea on the 21st inst. The captain and all the crew were lost. She left New Orleans for Liverpool on the 13th of November.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. [illegible].—A terrible explosion of gas occurred at the St. Nicholas hotel last night. A leak had taken place in an unoccupied room, and upon entering it with a light the gas exploded, seriously burning Messrs. Campbell, Estes and Dunning. Their injuries are painful but not all dangerous.

The next steamer for [illegible] will be the [illegible], to sail January 14th. Following are the rates of passage: First class, [illegible] ladies [illegible]; [illegible] $12; second cabin [illegible].

The body of Mr. Lloyd, clerk in the office of [illegible], who disappeared some weeks ago, was caught in the net of a fisherman near [illegible] Island. It is supposed he jumped off the [illegible] in a fit of insanity.

It was reported at the Merchants' Exchange this afternoon that the schooner Sea King went ashore at the mouth of Albion river on the 2d, but would probably be got off safely.

Dr. [illegible] has commenced a suit against John Middleton to recover ten thousand dollars alleged to be due on a promissory note. This is the notorious lock jaw case.

The boot black Charles Williams who sent poisoned figs to a rival in the same business was tried yesterday and acquitted of the attempt to murder. He will probably be examined before the Commissioners of Insanity.

EVERETT BY HALF IT.—It is vastly amusing [illegible] the [illegible] eagerness with which the Sound [illegible] talk of the railroad terminus. Every man is [illegible] got the exact location and is prepared to show [illegible] most conclusive arguments that the [illegible] anywhere else without sacrificing not only the [illegible] interests of the whole country but of the railroad [illegible] themselves. The proprietor of Cape [illegible] that there is not a place on the Sound so [illegible] as his for the terminus. The owner of [illegible] the [illegible] Head man is willing to bet that he [illegible] Tongue Point ditto. [illegible] place [illegible] which cannot be ignored. [illegible] vantages [illegible] Point is a length [illegible] Point-no-Point is so clearly the place that it [illegible] madness to look any further. Olympia [illegible] and [illegible] extensive claim [illegible] all competitors so far that it is sheer folly to [illegible] them. Tacoma, having been [illegible] of the world is just where the [illegible] spite of engineers, rival towns and all the [illegible] blood. Seattle has prior [illegible] far-seeing tavern keeper [illegible] Terminus [illegible] in big black letters [illegible] seaward gable just where ship [illegible] Sound can [illegible] to see them, and thus be informed [illegible] to land. Steilacoom is certain to be the [illegible] is just above the [illegible] the Government is going to build forts for the [illegible] of the commerce of the world. The [illegible] North Bay, and [illegible] Bay, and [illegible] Mud Bay and Gull [illegible] and all [illegible] give a [illegible] the bitterest, jolliest and [illegible] fectly satisfied set of [illegible] in the [illegible].

CARD OF THANKS.—We [illegible] the following [illegible]

[illegible] HAS IT.—It is vastly amusing to witness the [illegible] eagerness with which the Sound people talk of the railroad terminus. Every man is sure to have got the exact location, and is prepared to show by the most conclusive arguments that the terminus can't be [illegible] else without sacrificing not only the material [illegible] of the whole country, but of the railroad builders themselves. The proprietor of Cape Winder [illegible] is not a place on the Sound so precisely fitted as a harbor for the terminus. The owner of Round Island says the railroad must end at his sea by girt rance. The Dungeness man is willing to bet that he has the very place. Tongue Point, ditto. Dungeness Point has a [illegible] which cannot be [illegible]. Jeal's Point is the place, sure, Wood's Point is a length ahead of any other. Ditto Grahams's [illegible]. But Collins Point which [illegible] Point is so clearly the place that it would be [illegible] to look any further. Olympia being the Capital, and being unquestionably at the head of navigation and having an extensive clam bed on its grounds, [illegible] others so far that it is sheer folly to talk about them. Tacoma, having been located exactly in the centre of the world is just where the railroad must terminate in the order of engineers, rival towns and all the other [illegible]. Seattle has put in a claim because a shrewd landlord tavern keeper long since named his hotel "The [illegible] House" in big black letters painted on the gable, just where ship masters coming up the Sound can't fail to see them, and thus be informed where to land. Steilacoom is certain to be the place because it is just above the "Narrows and Point Defiance, where [illegible] going to build forts for the protection of the commerce of the world." The enterprising citizens of [illegible] Bay, and South Bay, and Oyster Bay and [illegible] Gull Harbor and Scow Harbor are each [illegible], and wouldn't give a cancelled postage stamp [illegible] regarded as the terminus. There are about [illegible], capes, bays, harbors, inlets, etc., each [illegible] advantages which it would be rank folly [illegible] With these brilliant prospects before each and every town site proprietor the inhabitants of [illegible] ought to be the happiest, jolliest and most [illegible] set of fellows in the world.

ASTORIA, OREGON, Jan 6th 1869

[illegible] of the passengers on board the California, [illegible] steamship Active was held this day, [illegible], with the view of taking steps to express [illegible] admiration of the conduct of Capt F C Schol [illegible] fearful gales which raged with unabated fury [illegible] the 4th and 5th inst

[illegible], Esq, was called to the chair by acclamation [illegible] briefly explained the object of the [illegible] upon Dr James Dickson to move the pre[illegible] resolutions which had been prepared and [illegible] late:

[illegible] signed passengers on board the C. O & [illegible] steamship Active on her trip from Victoria to Oregon, having encountered an awful gale [illegible] the nights of the 3d and 4th inst. during [illegible] of the ship and the lives of all on board [illegible] in extreme peril, and feeling that our safe [illegible] harbor is due, under God, to Capt. F. C [illegible] the officers and men of the ship, for the [illegible] earnest solicitude which they evinced [illegible] his commands, do now desire to express [illegible] gratitude for the same in such shape and [illegible] upon their minds the obligations they have laid us, therefore be it—

[illegible], That being desirous of giving a practical [illegible] of our thankfulness and exalted admiration [illegible] care, skill, unwearying energy, heroic [illegible] sound judgment exhibited by Capt. F. C. [illegible] officers and men of the Active, we do now [illegible] our sincere and grateful acknowledgment, [illegible] by our blessings and best wishes for their [illegible] and prosperity in this life and in the world [illegible].

[illegible] That copies of the foregoing preamble and [illegible] be sent to the OREGONIAN, Herald, Alta California [illegible] British Colonist with the respectful request [illegible] will be pleased to publish it in their respective [illegible]

[illegible] by Thomas Cunningham and carried unanimously.

[illegible], M D, G White, J Cunningham, [illegible] G Brown, F Waterman, J C Mayer, Ned Ward, [illegible] U S A, T Mann, J M Sparrow, H Hudson, J [illegible], C K Wright, W Smith, W Elley, Col S [illegible] A, H Roberts, H Copperthwaite

[illegible]—At the late session of the Oregon Legislature a joint resolution was passed requesting the [illegible] Legislatures of Idaho and Montana of their [illegible] for the levy and collection of taxes on [illegible] in Oregon and in transit through those [illegible]. In referring to this matter the Boise Dem[illegible] 24th ult., remarks: "We cannot help be[illegible] in the main is right, and it would [illegible] no more than proper that the present session [illegible] Legislature should take some action in the matter [illegible] repeal at least that portion that taxes the [illegible] wagons of actual, bona fide resident tax-payers [illegible] of Oregon who freight to our Territory. You [illegible] them bring a certificate from some qualified [illegible] county, proving that they are what they [illegible], and if they do not have such certificate, as [illegible] by law, then they will be liable for a tax on [illegible] they may have. In this way wrong will be [illegible] without detriment to us. We submit that something of the character spoken of should be done."

[illegible] PIRACY.—The Olympia Transcript, of Jan. [illegible] an article entitled "First Settlement on the Co[illegible] River," which was taken from the OREGONIAN, of [illegible], without credit; and has an editorial comment [illegible], which was stolen from the OREGONIAN of Dec. [illegible] The former is set up solid; the latter is leaded to [illegible] the coin of the Transcript. Both were [illegible] by their right names—robberies. The act [illegible] such things from other newspapers [illegible] is disreputable and dishonest. If the [illegible] wants to be classed with the "Piratical [illegible] continue this sort of thing. In a number of [illegible] we might mention, paragraphs, original with [illegible], have been cribbed in a similar way and [illegible] floated around through the press of the country [illegible] to the thief. Gentlemen you may copy us [illegible] heart's content; but don't steal our work and [illegible] your own.

[illegible] COURT—BRADY, JUDGE.—Proceedings [illegible], Jan. 6th:

The Jacksonville Sentinel says there is only a few inches of snow at Fort Klamath.

A Chinaman at Jacksonville, while at work last week, fell down dead. Heart disease.

The Springfield (Mass) Republican of December 19th, says Mr Williams, of Oregon, continues to be the most acceptable representative of the Pacific coast for a Cabinet appointment

The present winter has been one of the most sickly ever known in the Rogue river valley. The Sentinel says: Coughs and pneumonia have been prevalent, and croup has been unusually fatal among children. A cold, clear spell seems necessary to purify the atmosphere

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

Small-Pox Increasing in Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan 7.—One death from small pox last night, and three new cases reported to day

Washington County

Our county being a little off the present line of travel through the valley, is not open to the observation of travelers and consequently is not noted as it deserves to be. Having at least 200 square miles of level or undulating lands, besides the slopes of the hills and the valleys among them, it is second to no county in the State for the extent and fertility of its cultivable lands. It has the advantage of being nearer to the market—a proximity deprived of value by the hills between it and Portland—but that will, when the railroad is completed, be again important. It is a beautiful section, too, and withal as healthy as any part of our generally healthy State.

It has suffered from its early settlement—all the best lands being taken in large farms of 640 acres. Within a comparatively few years, however, smaller farms have been taken at the foot of the hills, on neglected and interior lands, or in the timber and the old claims have been divided up until the increased population begins to tell upon our public interests. Roads and bridges, in large part the investment of individual enterprise, are as a fixed capital, enriching the whole people. There is still much unoccupied land. There are hundreds of homes yet to be made in the valleys that run back among the western hills. These hills are not a range, but a disorderly, broken sea of hills, with streams running north, south, east and west among them. They are susceptible of cultivation to the summits. They are about 1,400 feet high. This is the hight of Chehalem, which is held in farms and cultivated to and upon its summit. We have no doubt that all the country to the coast will, when land is rendered valuable by a near and adequate market, be held in farms just as the Portland hills now are. All this coast country is as susceptible of utilization as a large part of Multnomah county now occupied. Let us have the railroad and hundreds of families will be nestling in the choice valleys and making themselves homes.

It is forty miles from Forest Grove to the coast, and at least seventy five to Astoria. All this country will be settled. These forest crowned hills will be clothed with flocks. They will yet wave with grain. Roads will insinuate themselves among the hills where now it is impassable, and, as in other hill countries, so here, our most industrious, most robust and happiest population will be among the hills. And this will begin to be the case, we predict, when our prairie lands are actually worth $25 per acre.

Knowledge Without Wisdom.

The Jacksonville Sentinel says:

The Unionist and Herald have been hob nobbing together on the legislative question * * * The Unionist has merited the praise of the Herald because, fully understanding the "selfish and intriguing" character of the Democratic members it is unwise enough to play into their hands, seeking to accomplish under cover of extraordinary honesty, and justice to the State, exactly what it charges the Herald with attempting to do from purely partisan motives. The difference between those two papers on the legislative question is exceedingly slight. They are both working for the same end, perhaps with different motives. The Unionist affects the knowledge that the Democratic Legislature are a body of rascals, but is willing to take chances on their possible repentance. The Herald assumes that they are the purest of patriots, statesmen of the greatest calibre, and holds that if their official career of usefulness is much longer retarded, the world will stop moving. Finally, to make its position more ridiculous, the Unionist makes a demand on the Herald to call the Oregon "Rump" pet names, and thus wash its hands of any suspicion of dishonesty. Then under the joint frowns of these twin Titans of the press, may the immortal rump—hooted by Congress, jeered at by the people of their own State, and the laughing stock of the whole country—assemble again to repeat their blundering tom foolery at pleasure, and who expects anything of them but another career of folly, is more trusting than wise.

HOW RECONSTRUCTION WORKS.—A Mississippi plantation, that cost $60 000 ten years ago, lately sold for $260.—Copperhead paper.

RELIEF SOCIETY.—By request of the ladies of the "Relief Society" Dr R B Wilson has granted his professional services gratuitously for three months, (from 20th December last) to the poor of Portland when recommended to him by any member of said Society.

RECITATIONS will be resumed in the Portland Academy and Female Seminary, Monday Jan 4 1869. Classes will be reorganized and a suitable opportunity afforded for new pupils to enter. Tuition charged for the remainder of the Quarter only.

NIGHT SCHOOL.—Mr Fitzgerald has opened a Night School in the school house (up stairs) near the Catholic Church. For Terms See the Teacher.

"BEAUDRY'S [illegible]"

Messrs P H Drake and Co., proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS, are said to be the largest importers of St Croix Rum and Calisaya bark in America. The Rum imported by this Firm is all used in the preparation of their Bitters and is manufactured under the immediate supervision of one of their agents upon a leased plantation on the Island of St. [illegible]. Over one thousand puncheons about one million gallons is used annually for their Bitters alone. The Calisaya Bark is all imported from Brazil and is also gathered by the natives, under the supervision of an agent sent out for that purpose. The cures produced by these Bitters are wonderful.

A FINE PLANT FOR THE TEETH.—The fragrant Sozodont has taken a very prominent place among the approved dentifrices of the day. It is a very popular article for the toilet highly recommended by all who have used it as a beautifier and preserver of the teeth, refreshing the mouth, sweetening the breath and arresting the cause of decay.

KOHN & FISHEL are now offering their Goods lower than ever, and it is really astonishing to see what Handsome Suits a person can buy at their establishment for so little money. Even the most saving, or the poorest man, feels glad to know their Store—No 91 Front street. Ladies, too, will be astonished to see at what reduced prices Kohn & Fishel are selling their Dry Goods.

PROSPECTUS

THE SAN FRANCISCO HERALD.

On the FIRST OF JANUARY 1869, THE SAN FRANCISCO HERALD will be revived as a first class Commercial Daily Newspaper, independent in politics under the Editorial control of its former Editor JOHN NUGENT assisted by a thoroughly efficient and able Staff. The Herald will be issued as a Morning Paper, but there will be an Afternoon Edition prepared for the interior of the State and for Nevada, with the Market Stock and Local Reports up to the hour of going to press.

It is the design of the proprietors to establish the best newspaper that—by the aid of unlimited means and the highest order of talent in all its departments—can be produced on this coast, making it, in all essential particulars, as much a necessity to the Mercantile and Family Public, and as valuable as a newspaper, as any of the first-class New York Journals. It will be the chief aim of its projectors—by the excellence of its information on all matters of [illegible] to give it a [illegible] reputation for [illegible] as a Commercial and Business [illegible]; at the same time that in the ability of its conduct in the other departments, Law, Literature, Local [illegible], and [illegible] that go to make up a Daily [illegible] it shall [illegible] be kept up to the highest [illegible].

While the vast Agricultural Interest and the rapidly growing Manufacturing Industry of the State will be earnestly presented, as well Editorially as in the News Department, that interest which drew hither the first grand tide of immigration will be [illegible] with special care. Everything worthy to be known in connection with Mining Enterprises, and all inventions and discoveries calculated to enhance the profits or stimulate the labor of the Miner shall be duly chronicled and described.

Mr Nugent, whose ability as an Editor is sufficiently known, will be assisted by gentlemen whose judgments have been educated and matured by long and varied experience in their respective Departments.

TERMS, ETC.—The San Francisco Herald will be published every morning, and will be furnished to subscribers at 50 cents per week, payable to the Carriers, single copies, 10 cents. It will be mailed to subscribers outside the city at Eighteen Dollars a year, payable in advance, 6 months, Nine Dollars, 3 months, Five Dollars.

Communications intended for the Editor should be addressed to John Nugent, 414 California street, San Francisco. Business letters may be sent to

SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS.

TO THE CITIZENS OF OREGON:

I BEG LEAVE TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE citizens of Oregon to my celebrated AROMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, a medicinal Diet Drink of eminently salutary qualities, manufactured by myself exclusively at my factory at Schiedam in Holland.

In Gravel, Gout and Rheumatism; in Obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys its efforts are prompt, decided, and invariably reliable.

It is now some twenty years since the Proprietor first introduced it to the American public, and during that time he has received over 3,000 letters from physicians, endorsing it as the purest liquor they have ever used in their practice.

It is made from barley of the finest quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic juniper berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting [illegible] bleand often dangerous effects produced on [illegible] and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated [illegible] peculiarly liable—the

SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS

Will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys and of the bladder stricture, dyspepsia and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

Are you WEAK, DEBILITATED, NERVOUS? Is your sleep disturbed? Do you have palpitation of the heart or an inclination to melancholy? Diseases of such nature require a prompt DIURETIC, which will be found in Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps.

Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps

Is sold by all Grocers and Apothecaries.

Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps

Is recommended by all the Medical Faculty.

Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps

Is imitated and counterfeited, and purchasers will have to use caution in purchasing

Fashionable Smuggling

(From the Chicago Tribune Dec 17

The Commissioner of Customs in his report to the Secretary of the Treasury recommends that Congress shall amend or repeal the bad rule which allows passengers arriving at our ports from foreign countries to bring with them wearing apparel appropriate to their social position " free of duty

Whatever may have been the original construction of this phrase appropriate to their social position it is now made the means of swindling the government out of millions of dollars revenue every year and it is high time that Congress should stop the leak How can the Custom House officers tell what is the social position of every fashionably-dressed person returning from Europe? And what has the social position of anybody to do with the question of paying duty on imported goods? Why should social position permit any family returning from a European pleasure tour to bring with them from one to ten thousand dollars worth of luxurious fabrics and dead head them through the Custom House? Yet this thing is being done on the arrival of every steamer by scores of persons and it is high time to put a complete stop to it

One of the chief temptations for visiting Europe is to lay in an enormous wardrobe for the whole family and its collateral relations and intimate friends, at European prices and thereby escaped the American duty Tens of thousands of Americans, veritable carpet-baggers flock over to Paris each season taking with them hardly a change of linen One modern [illegible] trunk easily holds all that a whole family will carry with them Social p[illegible] is content with few things on the outward-bound steamer But, when they return, see what a caravansery of baggage they bring [illegible] A score of large trunks crammed with enough wearing apparel for themselves and their relatives for several years, consisting of opera cloaks laces cambrics, linen gauzes silks broadcloth velvets jewelry watches, diamonds photographs statuettes pictures, [illegible], perfumes, toilet goods, toys gloves by the gross, and a vast assortment of articles of bijouterie and vertu make up the assortment of wearing apparel appropriate to their [illegible] and position" on returning home The amount of costly goods thus dead headed into the country by 'social position is perfectly enormous Indeed it is only limited by the [illegible] of the returning tourists and their friends at home The lawful duties on [illegible] goods would amount to considerably more than all the other expenses of their trip [illegible] wealthy families make it a regular [illegible] to visit Europe once in two years and [illegible] season, for the sole purpose of [illegible] shopping in Paris and other cities on the Continent and purchasing their [illegible] at one-half or one-third the American pri[illegible] What they save in the cost of the goods [illegible] equals the expenses of the trip We are informed by those who have [illegible] from Paris that trunk making is one of [illegible] branches of business [illegible] in that city. A hundred thousand of [illegible] trunks are annually filled with costly [illegible] American tourists, and smuggled thr[illegible] Custom Houses free of duty, on the [illegible] of the " social position " of the ow[illegible] And those who have not the leisure or [illegible] to indulge in a European tour [illegible] the Dominion of Canada where the tariff on foreign goods is but one-third as high [illegible] United States, and in Montreal To[illegible] and Quebec gratify their desire for [illegible] fabrics and wardrobes at prices [illegible] of the home markets. This [illegible] smuggling is not allowed to the [illegible] that from Europe. The social [illegible] of the smugglers is not supposed to [illegible] They are limited to fewer [illegible] free: [illegible] goods [illegible] But [illegible] to visit the Dominion than [illegible] [illegible] of cheap goods [illegible] in the course of a season [illegible] and fill in a

OF THE
Weekly Oregonian
FOR 1869.

Nineteenth Volume!

Only $3.00 a Year.

By common consent the OREGONIAN ranks first [illegible] the [illegible] published in the Northwest. It is the oldest paper in the State and its circulation and influence [illegible] than that of any other two papers combined As a journal of enterprise in gathering the [illegible] intelligence, and in giving in each issue a larger [illegible] and greater variety of reading matter it has no competitor It is thoroughly identified with this city and State and neighboring Territories where the [illegible] of its [illegible] and its influence are constantly increasing
An unflinching advocate of sound Union principles it at the same time pays special attention not only to MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST but to every thing of moment to the great

Agricultural, Manufacturing,
AND MINING INTERESTS,

And to the development of the resources and settlement of the Northwest
Its columns [illegible] daily [illegible] digest of

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS
Oregon, Washington, Idaho and [illegible]

TELEGRAMS FROM

are published as full as in the California [illegible] and put [illegible] from ONE TO THREE DAYS BEFORE ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE.
Among its corps of writers are regular corr[illegible] at New York and Washington City, men who, having lived in this State, are able to write [illegible] both [illegible] and [illegible] from an Oregon point
Its Literary and [illegible] are from the best editors
